Thinkspace is a high tech modern space consisting of two floors totaling 18,000 square feet at Lake Union Building in South Lake Union. It was a 2-Phase project designed to allow for early occupancy of one floor, while Avara completed the 2nd phase on the floor above. The project consisted of extensive demolition, coupled with significant asbestos abatement down to vanilla shell, with full trade build back. The space features private offices and suites as well as event space, meeting rooms, community kitchens, and the highest audio-visual technology to support the ongoing needs of its partners.
